

To Premier John Horgan and Green Leader Andrew Weaver:

British Columbians and Canadians who live here are being punished by your government for owning property.

Some of these BC residents have worked their entire lives to afford a cabin or a condo in a second location and many of them use them for their university student children or for medical treatments. Many Canadians also own a home in BC while they work hard out of province.

This is unfair. The government has no right to force people to sell or rent out private properties owned by Canadians.

We the undersigned call upon the BC government to STOP the speculation tax.
