Notes:

The information provided is for the Federal Public Service (i.e., Core Public Administration and Separate Agencies). The Core Public Administration consists of the departments and agencies named in schedules I and IV of the Financial Administration Act (FAA). The Treasury Board is the employer of this segment of the Federal Public Service. Separate agencies are named in Schedule V of the act. Separate agencies conduct their own negotiations or set their own classification levels for their employees. It includes all employment tenures (indeterminates, terms, casuals, and students), active employees only (i.e., employees on leave without pay are excluded), and it is based on effective employment classification (i.e., acting appointments included).

The FPS does not include ministers' exempt staff, employees locally engaged outside of Canada, RCMP Regular Force Members, RCMP Civilian Members nor Canadian Forces Members.

Data on executives in the federal public service include employees from the Executive group as well as executive equivalents within the separate agencies.

Additional classification groups included as EX equivalent include:

Estimated total salary and benefits of a fiscal year include base salary as of March of that year, performance pay received for the work done in that year, and the estimated monetary value of benefits, such as pensions and health insurance, calculated from an Employee Benefits Plan (EBP) factor typically used for assessing personnel costs in the public service. The EBP factor used reflects the estimated average cost of benefits for all public servants.

The counts that are 10 or less and departments that have 100 or less employees have been suppressed (*) for privacy reasons.
