In order to ensure the safety of our members and those we protect, as well as to ensure the integrity of security measures and operations, the RCMP does not disclose information that could expose specific details about any particular protective event, or about the number of personnel assigned to protect any given dignitary. As such, specific breakdowns of costs cannot be provided as it may indicate how many PMPD resources were deployed on individual assignments.

It is the RCMP's legislated mandate to provide 24/7 protection to the sitting Prime Minister and their family.
